Camp AED Program Checklist

Is your camp prepared to handle cardiac emergencies? You may consider purchasing or renting an Automated External Defibrillator (AED). As you establish an AED program, consider the following questions:

	Yes	Needs Attention
1. Based on your facility's size, do you know how many AED units you would need and where they should be located?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
2. Do you know who within your organization will be responsible for AED use?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
3. Is AED training part of your response team's onboarding process?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
4. Do you know whether you have enough people on your response team to cover most situations/locations within your camp?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
5. Do you know how much money will be needed to rent or purchase the equipment, train employees or volunteers, and provide program maintenance?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
6. Do you know current AED-use laws in your state? While there are AED Good Samaritan provisions in most states that provide certain legal protections to laypersons, it's good to know the legal climate in your state regarding this equipment.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
7. Do you consult with your local American Red Cross chapter, hospital, or another organization for input regarding your AED such as renting vs. purchasing, maintenance, and training for staff and volunteers?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
